JAMES C. DRURY, New Brighton, N. Y.

Newman Club; Triad League.

Jim promises to be one of the most successful advertising men. He spent two years at Wall Street before coming up to the Square. Even from his freshman class Jim was interested in advertising and has proven itself, and we know he will make his start in business through this medium.

BERNARD L. DUPLESSIS, Newark, N. J. $\Phi K T$

Newman Club, Taylor Society.

Ben's blooming (and this is not the English version!) moustache wrought such havoc among the co-eds that he was obliged to dispose of it. Can't quite see it now, so guess it must have gone before the picture was taken. Anyhow, we hasten to assure you that it was all a part of him—while it lasted! Apart from that, though, Ben's a real man all through, and it has been our gain to have him with us for the last four years.

WILLIAM A. DYKE, New York City $\Delta \Sigma \Pi$

Newman Club; Dramatic Society; Veterans' Club (Vice-President); Onimod Club; 1925 Commerce Violet Board; Chairman 1925 Day Prom. Committee.

The co-eds Nemesis. Bill's life in the "village" is filled with tales of many a broken heart. Uncle Sam's Navy started him off on several years of globe-trotting before he finally settled down to complete his education. A social light and an excellent scholar, Bill is held high in the esteem of his classmates. Our loss is the business world's gain.

MATILDA EFFRON, Bensonhurst, L. I. $Z \Phi$

Dramatic Society.

In a land far away Mat first appeared on New Year's Day.

Now she resides in Bensonhurst on the Bay.

At school she's very well known by all,

A good looking co-ed, google-eyed and tall

She's active, gay and a pal very true,

And everyone was fond of her at N. Y. U.

RUTH G. EHRET, New York City $K \Delta$

Newman Club.

Ruth began her quest for knowledge at George Washington University and then following some good example came to New York University. And now that she is here we wonder how we ever got along without her, for our versatile and friendly Ruth has made many friends among us. We often wonder, though, how one small person can work and play as much in one short day as Ruth really does.
